Biography

Advisory Board Description

The President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board (PFIAB), with its component President's Intelligence Oversight Board (PIOB), (see separate inventory) is an independent element within the Executive Office of the President. President Reagan established the Board under Executive Order 12331 on October 20, 1981. Initially the Board was created by President Eisenhower in February 1956, under the recommendation of the second Hoover Commission. The Board continued to assist through Presidents Kennedy, Johnson, Nixon, and Ford. President Carter abolished the Board in 1977.

The President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board exists exclusively to assist the President by providing the President with an independent source of advice on the effectiveness with which the Intelligence Community is meeting the nation's intelligence needs, and the vigor and insight with which the community plans for the future. The Board has access to all information needed to perform its functions and has direct access to the President.

The Intelligence Oversight Board oversees the Intelligence Community's compliance with the Constitution and all applicable laws, Executive Orders, and Presidential Directives. It complements and supplements, rather than duplicates the oversight roles of the Director of National Intelligence, Department and Agency Inspectors General and General Counsels, and the Congressional Oversight Committees.
