Biography

Office Description

The White House Gift Unit functioned as a unit under the supervision of the Office of Correspondence and the ultimate supervision of Anne Higgins, Assistant to the President for Correspondence. However, the Gift Unit had functioned as its own office prior to mid-1981 and was housed in a separate location from the Office of Correspondence. In addition, staffers Mary Powers and John Hilboldt were given the title: Director of the White House Gift Unit. Therefore, the Reagan Library will treat this as a separate collection.

This collection consists of three boxes from the Director of the White House Gift Unit (consisting largely of records of gifts to White House staff), one box of 1981 gift correspondence, eight boxes of gift box inventories as they were packed at the White House, two boxes of further box inventories for pre-Inaugural, Foreign Officials, Archives Staff which came in a later accession and one box of correspondence regarding pre-Presidential gifts. We hope to find more gift correspondence within the Office of Correspondence collection and it will subsequently be moved to this collection.

Printouts of computer records of each gift, the "green sheets," are part of the Museum Objects Collection and are with the Museum Registrar.
