Biography

Biography

Mary Ann Meloy began work in the Office of Public Liaison in June 1983 as an Assistant for Communications working directly for Faith Whittlesey. Meloy and Whittlesey had a previous working relationship and had known each other for about ten years prior to her Meloy's joining the White House staff. In this position Meloy ran meetings, assisted in speechwriting and article writing for Whittlesey. In November 1983 she was promoted to Associate Director and became responsible for the agriculture constituency, replacing John M. Rousselot.
