Biography

Brief Biography

Michael Austin Driggs is a former army officer, government official and trade and marketing advisor.

Driggs was born in South Charleston, West Virginia on October 12, 1947.

Driggs completed most of his education in West Virginia with a B.A. in politics and economics from the University of West Virginia in 1969. He continued graduate studies at the University of West Virginia, earning a master's in Public Administration (MPA) in 1973. He also completed some graduate accounting studies at American University in 1984.

Leaving his studies, Driggs became an intelligence officer with the U.S. Army from 1969-1972.

After serving in the Army, Driggs began a seven-year period at the Office of Management and Budget as a budget examiner. Driggs oversaw the foreign intelligence budget and then the railroad industry federal budgets.

In 1980, Driggs took on a very visible job as the Executive Director of the Chrysler Corporation Loan Guarantee Board in the United States Department of the Treasury.

Leaving the Treasury Department in March 1982, Driggs became the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Automotive Industry Issues at the Department of Commerce. In March 1984, Driggs left the Commerce Department to join the White House Office of Policy Development staff as Special Assistant to the President and Assistant Director for Commerce and Trade.

Since leaving the White House in March 1989, Driggs was a partner with the Austin Group, Inc. offering marketing and market access advice to corporations. He remained there until January 2012. While at Austin, Driggs assisted several company startups, including the International Club Network, working with them from 1998-2005.

Driggs lives in the Washington, DC area and is an avid golfer.

Scope and Content Note

The majority of the Michael A. Driggs collection consists of trade relations and U.S. trade issue materials for the second Reagan Administration. The collection contains some large blocks of files on issues such as automobile trade relations; trade deficits and unfair trade practices of Japan; The President's Commission on Industrial Competitiveness; space policy and the commercialization of space; the United States steel industry; telecommunications and textiles.

The collection documents Driggs' visible and active participation in interagency groups, committees, and task forces on trade issues. Most notably, Driggs was a member of the Trade Policy Review Group (TPRG) and the Trade Policy Staff Committee (TPSC). Both of these groups are chaired and administered by the United States Trade Representative's office. The material within Series II of this collection contains meeting information and chronological files for the TPRG and the TPSC. Material on these groups can also be found throughout the other trade files.

Driggs was also involved with some high-profile non-trade related issues during the late 1980s. He was the co-director of the Sub-Saharan Africa Coordinating Committee (SERIES III) dealing with the severe African drought and famines during the 1980s, worked with the organization and creation of the Interagency Low Income Opportunity Board, and was a volunteer speaker for the Commission on the Bicentennial of the United States Constitution.
